Indiana Flower & Patio Show presents
Super Bride Sunday

Indianapolis - It's the day little girls and young women dream of – their wedding day! Some have, since the age of 12, had the perfect wedding day pictured in their head: the colors, the cake, of course, the dress! Now, that you've found Mr. Right and have the ring of your dreams, where do you begin shopping for the BIG DAY?

Let the 50th Anniversary of the Indiana Flower & Patio Show help you start your wedding planning right, as they proudly present Super Bride Sunday, March 16, 2008 from 10 am to 4 pm at the Indiana State Fairgrounds' Old National Bank Grand Hall, located just north of the West Pavilion.

General admission is $8. A combination ticket can be purchased for Super Bride Sunday and the 50th annual Indiana Flower & Patio Show, good on March 16th only, for $15. Tickets are available at the door of either show. Parking is $3 per vehicle, with free shuttle service from parking lots to all buildings.

This is certainly not your typical bridal show! As each bride-to-be enters the Old National Bank Grand Hall, she is greeted by a gentleman dressed in a tuxedo presenting her with a beautiful corsage.

Need a photographer? Wondering what the latest style is for bridesmaid's dresses? Want help choosing the right flowers? But don't like being bombarded by vendor after vendor selling the exact same thing?

Brides-to-be can experience a variety of wedding products and services from some of Indianapolis' most prestigious and respectable photographers, gown designers and florists.

All this walking and browsing can sure make any girl hungry and tired. Make sure to stop in the catering pavilion to sample the great tastes that Indianapolis caterers have to offer. After enjoying some fabulous treats, unwind and relax in our reception area.

Super Bride Sunday is one bridal show that shouldn't be missed!
